Conditional Admission

For those students who cannot satisfy all unconditional admission requirements, conditional admission may be granted under certain circumstances. Individuals admitted on a conditional basis may satisfy the requirements for unconditional admission as follows:

1. Students must have their GRE test scores on file with the admissions office by the completion of the FIRST semester in which they are enrolled in CS courses.
2. Students failing to achieve the minimum composite score of 800 may satisfy the GRE test requirement by successfully completing nine semester hours of graduate CS courses with a minimum grade point average of 3.0.
3. Students not having a 2.5 undergraduate grade point average may satisfy the requirement by the successful completion of nine semester hours of graduate CS courses with a minimum grade point average of 3.0.
4. A student with a bachelor's degree outside the field of CS may satisfy the bachelor's degree requirement by completing ALL of the following courses:

MTH 2215 – Applied Discrete Mathematics

CS 2250 – Computer Science I

CS 2255– Computer Science II

CS 3310 – Foundations of Computer Science

CS 3323 – Data Structures

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN ENVIRONMENTAL AND BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

Purpose and Goals

Master of Science Graduate Program in Environmental and Biological Sciences is designed to broaden the student's perspective and provide skills and knowledge for understanding and solv-

Degree Requirements

1. Unconditional Admission
2. Admission to Candidacy
3. Completion of curriculum listed below
4. Successful completion of EBS 6691 with a "B" or better
5. Overall 3.0 GPA
6. Successful completion of the comprehensive examination for non-thesis students or a thesis, including a presentation of a public seminar, for thesis students

A student who successfully completes the requirements listed above will be awarded the master's degree (M.S.) in Environmental and Biological Sciences.

Graduate Assistantships

The Graduate School offers several different types of assistantships and fellowships. Students should check the Graduate School's website (www.troy.edu/graduateschool/index.html) for details about assistantships and fellowships, deadlines, and copies of application forms. Students should send the completed assistantship forms to the Department of Biological and Environmental Sciences, 213 Math-Science Complex (MSCX). Students should also contact a faculty member who would be willing to serve as their graduate thesis adviser before applying for an assistantship.

The Master of Science in Environmental and Biological Science degree is offered as a 30 semester hour plus thesis or 36 semester hour non-thesis option. Both options require ten semester
